

Security Enclosure

For use with HDS100 and HDS200 models

Features

- Two-piece design for quick and easy installation
- Mounts to any flat surface such as desktop or wall
- Allows easy access to device connections
- Offers visibility of front indicator lights and toggle button
- HD Flow™ Pro device can be removed for maintenance without uninstalling enclosure
- High-gloss finish complements HD Flow™ Pro device's polished aesthetics
- Heavy duty 14-gauge steel construction for enhanced security

Offering new placement possibilities in public spaces, this Security Enclosure is a simple two-piece design that comes together to form a locked compartment to securely store the HD Flow™ Pro wireless transmitter or receiver. The enclosure allows user access to all rear connections as well as offers open space for visibility of the front panel indicators and access to the input toggle button. The Security Enclosure quickly installs to virtually any flat surface such as under a desk, onto a wall or tabletop with the provided hardware.
